The Intelligencer.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 22.

THERE is one thing the needy and expectant Democrats can count on with the Ohio; Wallace, of Pennsylvania; Balley, THERE is one thing the needy and excertainty of death. If they fail to carry certainty of death. If they fall to carry of Tennessee; Maxey, of Texas; Withers New York this year, Mr. Tilden will of Virginia, and Hereford, of West Virdrive the bung so tight and so far into that ginia. The retiring Republicans are Booth barl that no bung-starter will ever budge it, and say to the party as Mr. Seymou told the convention in 1868, "Your candidate I cannot be." But when Uncle Sammy says it he will mean it.

Accounts to the Louisville Courier Journal, Congressman Blackburn, who has been Mr. Thurman's Kentucky champion, in view of the "crushing defeat" in Ohio, which shelves Thurman, now comes ou for Tilden as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency-that is, if he carries New York this fall. Still, he does not seem to dote on Tilden. He says he thinks Tilden will "force his nomination on the party." Should he lose New York, however. Mr. Blackburn thinks the Democracy would go far West for a man to suit emergency, and that the choice would fail, perhaps, on David Davis, of Illinois, or Justice Field, of California.

Some of the veteran politicians are warning the Pennsylvania Republicans not to rely too confidently on success this fall by reason merely of the Republican ground swell. They are reminded that last year there was a Greenback vote in the State of nearly 82,000, of which at least 60,000 will this year go back to the old parties. This, it is estimated, will give 40, 000 to the Democrats and 20,000 to the Republicans; and in this way the Republi can majority of last year, 22,353, will be wiped out completely, unless the latter re-inforce their ranks by some active recuiting. The Republican State Committee however, from their canvass of the coun ties, estimate their majority this fall at about 22,000, or nearly the same as that of Tue 'year 1870 will be remarkable among other things for the first extensive adoption of the telephone as a convenient vehicle of communication. We in the United States are still much ahead of all the rest of the world in the ready adapta tion of this wonderful instrument. The London papers only last month were discussing in a speculative way the extent to which "telephone exchanges," as they call them, could be introduced. A Bristol man by the name of Carpenter, who has is been to this country, thereupon writes to the Speciator of the extent to which the telephone has been introduced in this country. He tells them that Ohicago had 1,000 telephone subscribers in June, Buffalo 1,000 or 1 per cent of the population, and that in many cities both systems are employed. Great Britain in this respect is considerably behind the times.

Nor only is Ireland convulsed with a civil tumult and threatened with invasion, but her crops, both root and cereal, have proved failures. The farmers realize that they can scarcely, under the most favorable circumstances, save and hold enough to prevent their families from suffering e hunger, and this fact strengthens their determination to enforce reduced rents. The area of Ireland is about that of the state of Indiana; there are 32,000 square miles of land of which 8,000 are mountains bogs, lakes, or waste, and about 24,000 are adapted to agriculture, but much of this is not capable of high cultivation. Upon this limited area of land there now exists a population of 5,700,000, three-fourths of whom are farmers. These farmers pay an aggregate annual rent of over $65,000,000. in addition to which they have to pay taxes and keep up improvements on the farms. In case of eviction, all the improvements belong to the land. This exhibit shows that there is ground for the discontent among the Irish farmers.

Is This True, Senator Henry? Lamenting the retirement of Senato Thurman from the Senate, the Louisville Courier-Journal narrates this incident in his career:

"Soon after the elevation of Mr. Blaine, and when that doughty warrior was seeking a chance to make his debut to advantage, his eye fell upon the Senator from Ohio as he entered the Senate chamber. and leaped into the arena; he shied his castor in the ring; he flaunted the bloody would be one or two simple motors of five shirt directly at the red bandanna, insolent audaclous and pert. Thurman climbed to his feet and jerked himself together, and closed with his assailant. They fit and fit.' Intellectually, they rolled over on the floor, gouged, pulled hair, and beat one another about the neck, head and shoulders. At length it was over, and, a good deal blown but yet conscious of having licked his man, Thurman said, audibly, as he made his way to the cloak room, attended by his faithful friends, Davis of Mest Virginia and Pinckney White of Maryland: 'Boys, that damned karlequin didn't get away with me, did he?' No, indeed, Senator, said Davis and White in a breath; 'you did splendidly—splendidly,' And, just as he disappeared inside the cloak room, Thurman was heard to mutter above the din of the bugle note which died in the depth of his red bandanna: 'Never mind! never mind! one of these cays I'll catch him when I'm sober, and then, damn him, won't I mash him?'' cers in one of the city fiscal offices had go and done it, that same being the contemplated of the contemplation of the city from the Republican campaign in 1800. His opponents "dubbed Grant "The Tannar," As a consequence the Republicans organized the companies for the campaign known as the Tanners. In the rejoicing at Dayton, Ohio, over the success of Charles Foster, who was deerled by the Confederate Brigadlers as Calico Charles between the working at the remained at home during the war, the Republicans gave what they were pleased to call a calleo party. A dispatch from Dayton says: "A spontaneous 'jambore' was gotten up this evening. It was an outburst of joility that the people could not reprises. "It was a great victory'. It had to be celebrated in a way creditable to Ohio men. Charley Foster having been contemptuously called "Calico Charley," his friends and supporters decided to make calloo the emblem of the great victory to night, and calleo was the feature of the joilification. Calco is everywhere displayed in the central portion of the city, Many residences are draped with yards and yards of it. The Court House plass is festooned with yards and yards of it. McMillan, of Minnesota; Bruce, of Missis-sippl; Paddock, of Nebraska; Sharon, of Nevada; Burnside, of Rhode Island; Edmunds, of Vermont, and Cameron, of Wisconsin. The Senate now stands Democrats 41, Republicans 34, Independent 1. It will be possible, therefore, after 1831 to change the political complexion of the majority. Of the states from which choice will be made the Republicans are reasonably certain of 12, the Democrats of 9. Of the doubtful states, if the Republicans should carry Connecticut, Indiana, New Jersey and New York, they would!have a majority of 1 in the Senate.

New Street Car Metive Power.

We have already alluded to the fact that on the Second Avenue horse car line in New York City they have introduced the compressed air motive power with signal siccess. The successful experiment in New York is drawing the attention of horse car companies throughout the country to this motive power. The Elm Grove Company of this city have been in correst pondence with the Pneumatic Tranway Engine Company of this city have been in correst cance to the introduction of this power on the Senate and contained as a standard medicine.

Br. Tutt, of New York, but we will be public in this light, is not an empiric, but a physician of long practice and high standing in his profession,. He was for may years a professor in a well known Medical College, and also the principal of the largest Division of the largest Theorem 1. The country is so full of quacks defrauding the public with worthless nostrums, that it gives us pleasure to notice the advent of a skillful and scientific physician into this field.

the New York company:

The following questions have been proposed to the Pneumatic Tramway Engine Company by two of the largest railroad companies in New York city.

What distance will a composite car or dummy, constructed on your system, run withfone charge of air, the dummy drawing an ordinary street car loaded?
